

Financial Conflict-of-Interest Disclosure form when submitting abstracts or proposing symposia to the annual ISEE conferences

Authors must disclose actual and/or potential competing financial interests from the last 3 years, including but not limited to: grant support; employment (past, present, or firm offer of future); patents (pending or applied); payment for expert witness or testimony; personal financial interests by the authors, immediate family members, or institutional affiliations that may gain or lose financially through publication of the article; and forms of compensation, including travel funding, consultancies, board positions, patent and royalty arrangements, stock shares, or bonds. Diversified mutual funds or investment trusts do not constitute a competing financial interest. Authors should carefully examine the wording of documents such as grants and contracts to determine whether there might be an actual or potential competing interest.

Required text for anyone submitting an abstract or symposia to the conference:.

All authors of this presentation have read the definition of Financial Conflict of Interest and certify:

There are no financial conflicts of interests to declare

OR

One or more of the authors <specify the names> have the following financial conflict-of-interest to declare relevant to activities with industry and related to the topic of this presentation:

- Research Contracts or Employment
- Paid or Unpaid Consulting
- Stockholder in or industry ownership
- Other (please specify):

The above should be included as a stand-alone slide number 2 after the title slide in an oral presentation, or printed at the lower right or left corners of the poster.